You might have some questions. If we don't answer them here, feel free to email Mrs Jen Keogh (faculty advisor) on:

Do I have to pay to attend the MUN?

Nope! NCC's Model UN involves no additional required costs to parent or students.

Do I get graded at the Model UN?

Again, nope! The MUN is a place to engage with global issues without the hassle of assessment.

If I go once, do I have to keep coming along?

Definitely not. You can come along, decide it's not for you, and we won't hold it against you.

How often does the Model UN meet?

The Model UN meets weekly.

Is it teacher run, and does it follow a curriculum?

The MUN is neither teacher run nor does it follow a curriculum.

The MUN is run by a handful of Year 12 students who plan each meeting to make them as fun & engaging as possible.

ENGAGE WITH GLOBAL ISSUES.

NCC's Model United Nation (MUN) is a place to investigate, discuss, and generally engage with global issues. The issues discussed range from war, human rights, climate action, and everything inbetween!

The MUN is a place where students can discuss matters that matter, and develop skills in diplomacy, critical thinking, respectful dialogue, research and public speaking. And have fun, of course.

WHAT'S ON AT THE MUN?

Following a successful launch in 2024, NCC's Model UN is going all out this year. We have big things planned – far beyond just our weekly meetings.

Students may* have the opportunity to engage in sessions with representatives from UN Youth Australia, and potentially compete in sessions against students from other schools across South East Queensland and the rest of Australia in the Evatt Competition.

*to be confirmed
